

BAVARIA AGAINST BERLIN REGIME

Saxon and Thuringian troops along the Bavarian border. As long as Bavaria takes no military action the government will try to solve the problem of the dictatorship within the republic diplomatically, officials said. Should the Bavarian troops threaten Berlin the government will not hesitate to use the Saxon and Thuringian troops to crush the revolt, using the powers vested in the national executive, President Hindenburg.

Fear March on Berlin.
Danger of a march on Berlin by the Bavarian monarchists was seen in an order issued in Munich, commanding the gray-shirted Fausts to assemble at fourteen mass meetings tomorrow.

Herr Hitler also issued the following order:
"Party members, since I have taken over the political leadership of the fighting forces, I order every party comrade of all military organizations not belonging to our fighting forces to immediately join the storm troops, either the Freischutz or the Oberland divisions of our national Socialist German Workers' party. Whoever fails to join the storm troops in ten days will be forced out of the party."

Opposed to Ludendorff.
Much significance is seen in the fact that he is a Catholic and opposed to Gen. von Ludendorff, who is a Protestant. He is a separatist, while Gen. von Ludendorff is a pan-German. He favors a Wittelsbach separatist, which is in opposition to the Ludendorff-Hitler Fascist program.

Wants Ruppert on Throne.
In a recent speech Herr von Kahr declared it was his duty to restore Crown Prince Ruppert to the Bavarian throne.

Herr von Kahr formerly was chancellor of Bavaria, but he had to quit because of his monarchist views and because he refused to dissolve secret armed organizations. In 1920 he was named president of Upper Bavaria. Gen. von Ludendorff has declared that a Wittelsbach separatist and monarchist victory is a greater danger than a Red revolution.

Calls German Knights to Arms.
In Berlin today numerous organizations of former officers met, pledging support to a military action to overthrow the Stresemann cabinet. One meeting was broken up and nineteen officers arrested last night. Prince Karl today issued a proclamation to the Order of German Knights, asking that every one place their arms at the disposal of the Nationalist war elements.

Whoever wants a united pan-German fatherland must help save the country from Marxism and bolshevism, and therefore the Knights, Uhlans, Chevaliers, and other German knights must join up with the storm troops. As a meeting of the "Bismarck Boys Organization of the Nationalist Party," it was declared that the giving up of the passive resistance would be accepted, but the hour was awaited for active resistance. National co-operation was urged.

Saxon Police Kill Two Reds.
In Zittau, Saxony, an attempt was made by Reds today to storm the city hall. Arriving with a truckload of bricks, they bombarded the guardhouse and city hall and plundered gun shops. The police volleyed, killing two and wounding fourteen seriously. The police suffered many wounded.

In Dresden demonstrations by the so-called Volksrevolutionäre continue daily.
Insists France Show Mercy.
If France refuses to show mercy after the German capitulation in the Ruhr and makes a second dictated peace, like that of Versailles, with Germany, Chancellor Stresemann will not accept, but as a last extreme will break off all relations with the entente and let come what will, even though the entente march upon Berlin and occupy the whole of Germany by military force.

The foregoing threat was made before a gathering of German journalists by the chancellor today.

PROCLAIMS SURRENDER.
BERLIN, Sept. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The text of the proclamation of surrender in the Ruhr issued by President Hindenburg today and signed by all the members of the cabinet is as follows:

"On Jan. 11 French and Belgian troops occupied the German Ruhr territory against right and treaties. Since then the Ruhr and Rhineland have endured most grievous oppression. Over 130,000 Germans, men,

2. The German government is stationing Saxon and Thuringian troops along the Bavarian border, to prevent the monarchists from crossing on their march to Berlin.
3. The Ruhr is quiet, having apparently given up hope that the passive strike could be soon.

4. The nearest French troops to Bavarian soil are outside Frankfurt, less than twenty-five miles away. It is 300 miles to Munich, where Gen. Ludendorff has his headquarters. The French have so far made no move.

over Germany's surrender, the man on the street, apart from communists and nationalists and some youngsters, who will lose their jobs, is expressing relief today that the struggle is ended. He deplores the nation's defeat, which he considers greater than that in 1918, but he is heartily tired of the period which has dislocated normal life completely and now hopes that gradually employment conditions will improve.

The Germans who expected immediate radical changes in the Ruhr life early this week were doomed to disillusionment, however. The reorganization of the district is not a matter of a few days, the French officials explain.

Begin Returning to Work.
On a small scale, however, the new order of things became apparent today in widely separated districts of the occupied territory. About 600 telegraph and telephone workers returned to work unconditionally at Wiesbaden, although French troops still continue to guard the buildings.

Strikers at Dierdorf mine, at Duisberg, resumed work.
When France seized material in the Shamrock mine agitators attempted to stage a strike, but the workers finally relented, declaring they must work now that Berlin has converted them.

The French occupied two mines at Recklinghausen and Wetter.
French Arrest Nationalist Leader.
Answering nationalist efforts to create dissatisfaction in Bochum, the French arrested the nationalist leader Reiskopf today.

Despite denials, the Dusseldorf papers continue to publish lurid forecasts of a separatist revolt—how Sunday, when all the members of the Rhineland party will descend upon Dusseldorf. The papers warn the citizens to avoid provocation.

Herr Mathes, leader of the Rhineland independence party, was beaten by communists on the streets here tonight. M. Zellinski, local separatist leader, suffered the same ignominy.

CLUB DISPUTE OVER $1,000,000 HOME IN COURT

Disagreement arising between a group of members and officers of the Olympia Fields Country club over proposed erection of a new $1,000,000 clubhouse yesterday precipitated the dispute into the Superior court. Two members of the club, Attorneys Luther M. Walter and F. E. Brightman, petitioned Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan to enjoin the board of managers from carrying out the project.

Three other members, Alonso C. Hecker, C. E. Brockhausen, and John E. Maguire, filed a petition at the same time to restrain the board of managers from declaring their memberships forfeited.

BRITAIN WAITS FOR CHANCE TO GET SOMETHING

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Sept. 24.—(Tribune Radio.)—The British cabinet met today for the first time since the rising of parliament, and sat two and one-half hours. No statement was made about the business done, but I understand that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin reported fully on his talk with Premier Poincare and it was decided that nothing can be done at the moment but to await the developments in Germany. If Germany is really ready to surrender there is a disposition by the British government to forget the illegality of the French action and try to restore some sort of unity of action with the French in the hope of saving something for Great Britain out of the wreck.

HOW NEW SIGNAL TOWERS AID RUSH TRAFFIC

It was 5 o'clock, the rush hour, and all was well with traffic along Michigan boulevard under the new signal tower system yesterday. The picture indicates in absence of the usual jam and hurlyburly and a new orderliness which is credited to the towers. Except for some confusion over an order restoring left hand turns between 4 and 6:30 p. m., it was said traffic was expedited.

CHANGE ORDER ON LEFT TURNS FOR MICH. BOUL.

Officials Report Plan
Working Better.

Success for the new signal system in Michigan avenue was predicted by traffic policemen and those in charge yesterday, following its second day of operation. Considerable confusion was caused during the rush hour last night by a change in rules which restricted the order prohibiting left hand turns from 4 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. Excepting this, it was said traffic moved much more expeditiously.

"Because people could not turn left from Randolph to 7th street," said J. P. Foster, superintendent of the south park system, "it caused a great deal of congestion in the loop on the cross streets. Everybody crowded down there so we decided to permit left hand turns all day."

This procedure bedeviled the motorists. More than one, thinking no left turns were permitted, crawled into the turn lane and found himself forced to turn around and go the other way, meanwhile blocking traffic.

Will Experiment Some More.
What the final ruling on left hand turns will be has not been finally decided, according to Mr. Foster.

"We shall have to experiment a little," he said, "but with patience I believe the system will work out all right."

It's working 50 per cent better today than it did yesterday," one of the policemen stationed on the boulevard asserted.

After inspecting the boulevard traffic Chief of Police Collins ventured the opinion that the new system was successful and tended to speed up traffic. Many motorists agreed with the chief, claiming that they were able to go much faster and further between stops than under the previous system.

Others Condemn System.
Other automobile drivers, however, condemn the system and dislike to drive on Michigan avenue because of the confusion. Many of them turn into the loop and travel down Wabash and State, adding to the congestion in these streets.

JOHN D. CELEBRATES 68TH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS FIRST JOB

Tarrytown, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Clouds and mist hovered over Pocantico Hills today, but there was sunshine in the house, for this was the sixty-eighth anniversary of the day when John D. Rockefeller got his first job, the day he celebrates with more joy than any other in the year. He was up early as usual and greeted the members of his household in high spirits.

"I accepted the invitation," said Mr. Rockefeller, "and early tomorrow morning I am going for a long walk with the President. I think the new President is getting along wonderfully, and it is well known that the admiration for him in the middle west is increasing every day."

At 10 o'clock Mr. Rockefeller marched to the first tee and sent a new white golf ball flying down the middle of the fairway toward the first green. Although past 84 years, Mr. Rockefeller's step was as steady and his stroke as hard as if he were only 60. He has been doing his nine holes at Pocantico in 42 and 43 of late.

SLOAN ORDERS LINK VIADUCT GAPS REPAIRED

Tribune Excavation
Bares Defects.

Defects in construction of the North Michigan avenue approach to the link bridge, which, if general, may cause the whole structure to settle several inches with consequent pavement and sidewalk ruptures, were revealed yesterday in excavations for the Tribune tower.

Sloan Orders Repairs.
John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements, ordered immediate repairs on the exposed foundation of the structure, after he and several city engineers were shown wide gaps between the supporting girders and caissons.

Girders supporting the upper level east sidewalk and curb have settled one inch already, declared Mr. Sloan.

ALLIES FORCE GREECE TO PAY ITALY MILLIONS

Punish Greeks for Delay in Assassin Hunt.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1923. By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Sept. 26.—Premier Mussolini said today that the Italian government would demand that Greece must pay 50,000,000 lire ($1,000,000) indemnity for the Janina assassinations before Italy will evacuate Corfu.

Hopelessly outvoted, with the French and even the Japanese backing Italy, Lord Curzon obtained assent from London to abandon the fight and consent to force the Athens government to pay reparations even before the authors of the slaying are apprehended.

It is a severe blow to the British prestige, and the League of Nations and world court, to handle the affair and sought to reduce the indemnity, because London bankers eventually will have to lend Greece the money to pay the fine.

Italy Is Satisfied.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
ROME, Sept. 26.—(Tribune Radio.)—Italy is highly satisfied with the decision of the ambassadors' council that Greece must pay 50,000,000 lire ($1,000,000) as part of the penalty for the Janina murders. An intense feeling was felt throughout the morning over the report that England was still contesting Italy's attitude. It is announced semi-officially that Italy will begin the evacuation of Corfu tonight and will finish by tomorrow night.

Stirs Greece and League.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 26.—The action of the council of ambassadors in awarding Italy indemnity of 50,000,000 lire over the previous protests of England and before the allied commission had completed its investigation of the murder of Gen. Tellini and his aids called forth violent criticism from M. Politis, Greek envoy this afternoon.

There is a growing feeling among the small powers that they have been betrayed by the ambassadors' council's action and in many quarters the decision is regarded as a death blow to the league. The award to Italy is regarded as a bribe to Rome.

Bandit Gives Clue.
ATHENS, Sept. 26.—(Tribune Radio.)—An Epire bandit named Memos told the international inquiry commission at Janina last night that Gen. Tellini was killed for personal vengeance for acts he had committed when stationed at Vailona, and the slayers killed the other four men so there would be no witnesses to the crime.

Druggist Routs Holdups
with Their Own Gun

Two colored men attempted to hold up the drug store of L. A. Moore, 3908 State street, at midnight last night. Moore grabbed the gun from one of them and chased them into the street. Several shots were exchanged and a stray bullet struck Mrs. Dell Carpenter, a colored woman, 3430 Prairie avenue, in the leg. She is in the Provident hospital.

Bobs Hair on Street;
Given Twelve Days in Jail

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Arrested for bobbing her hair while sitting on the curb at a street corner, Mrs. Ernie Blumet, 25 years old, was sent to jail for twelve days by Magistrate Rettallata today. Noticing a crowd on the corner a patrolman investigated and found the woman seated and industriously shearing her locks with the hair flying in all directions, while the spectators offered helpful suggestions. In police court the woman merely said she wished to preserve her youthful appearance.

Now They Want U.S. to Make All Men Dress Just Alike!

Mass production and standardization of men's clothing—a move which would dress all men in the same standard uniform—is the next curb scheduled to be put upon personal liberty and individuality in the United States, according to information obtained yesterday at the convention of the National Association of Retail Clothiers on the Municipal pier.

Certain powerful interests in the clothing industry are at work on such a plan, it is learned; they have made connections, it is positively stated, with government authorities, and are at work even now, co-operatively, with federal officials in some Washington bureau—probably in the Department of Commerce.

Scheme Falls in England.
The scheme, according to the scant information which could be obtained, is an international one. After efforts to saddle standardized men's wearing apparel on the English public through agreements with the British government, had failed it is now to be attempted in the United States.

Proponents of the scheme, it is said, have met with much more success in America than in England, for here they have succeeded in getting the official federal car. Work has been quietly, but persistently pushed along in Washington, it was stated.

And should the powerful interests behind the scheme succeed in their designs, it is predicted by the opponents of the plan—and there are some bitter ones—American men will lose all individuality distinction in dress; men will walk the streets and attend functions in uniform suits of cloth.

Then They Knock It Hard.
"Henry Ford has all these people crazy on mass-production and standardization," said one man high in the industry. "Well, it may work in automobiles, but it never will in clothes. They failed in England and so they came to put it over in this country. Perhaps they'll do better here; America seems to be still a virgin field for any kind of restraint of the individual."

Fred Voland, president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, is one of the leading opponents of the program; and while he refused to reveal—if he knows, and it is believed he does—just who the interests are behind the plan, or to tell what has been under way in Washington, Mr. Voland characterized the scheme as "more futile than the eighteenth amendment."

"I have told them all here in convention that it will not work in the United States," he said. "We can produce shoe strings, automobiles, corsets, collar buttons, and the like by the million, standardize production and get reduced overhead thereby; but not so with outward apparel. Here individuality insures upon expression."

CHICAGANS HEAD KIWANIS.
Eugene, Ill., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Daniel Westcott, Chicago, was elected president of the Illinois and eastern Iowa district of the Kiwanis association today. Dr. A. P. Hammond, Chicago, was chosen secretary. Hammond, who was elected as the 1924 convention site.

QUAKE KNOCKS JAPAN NAVY OUT OF THIRD PLACE

Tokio May Abandon Vast War Program.

BY JOHN POWELL

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
(Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)
BEIJING, Sept. 26.—Japanese naval authorities admit the destruction of the battleship Mikasa and the aircraft carrier, Amagi, and the almost complete destruction of Yokosuka, one of the four principal naval bases, by the earthquake. This destruction is believed to have seriously affected Japan's standing under the Washington conference agreement. The agreement gave Japan third place in the 1-2-3 rating under the treaty.

The total destruction by the earthquake and fire in Japan's establishment is not announced, and probably never will be officially. Foreign observers returning here from the scene of the destruction report that Japan incurred losses in floating equipment and shore defenses comparable only to a defeated nation in a war.

Damage to Craft.
Japanese papers brought here by refugees report serious damage to submarines and cruisers in Yokosuka harbor from the raising of the floor of the sea more than three feet and by the burning of oil released from the huge underground storage tanks.

American naval men in these waters state that the Japanese disaster is bound to affect Japan's ability to carry out the tremendous construction program for submarines and cruisers which the country entered upon immediately following the Washington conference.

The cost of reconstructing Tokohama and Tokyo is estimated at from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000, which leaves little for a further imperialistic naval program unless the military interests decide to restrict the economic development for a continuance of the naval race with America and Great Britain.

Heavy Army Losses.
TOKIO, Sept. 26.—[By Associated Press.]—The Japanese army estimates its loss as a result of the earthquake at 150,000,000 yen, including damages to the arsenal, clothing, provisions, and military depots.

Another severe earthquake occurred in Japan Monday in the Hiroshima district. The quake was especially violent around the city of Kyoto. The extent of the damage has not been determined as communications between the region and the remainder of Japan have been disrupted.

Cop Jails Seven Pickets in Garment Workers' Strike
Seven pickets, three women and four men, were arrested by Police Officer Walter Oakes during the rush hour last night, when they attempted to induce employees of the Roth & Worley company, makers of women's dresses at 233 South Market street, to strike.

The picketers, members of local 100 of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union of America, are charged with creating a disturbance in front of the clothing factory and attacking Oakes when he ordered them to move on.

Denied Change of Venue,
Motorist Sues Justice
Asserting that Justice of the Peace George W. Carr of Maywood refused him a change of venue on a minor motor law violation, Wilbur Rogers, 5512 South Michigan avenue, yesterday sued Carr in the County court for $100 damages. Rogers said he appeared before Carr on two occasions to answer charges and the arresting officer failed to appear. He then asked for a change of venue and it was refused, he claims.

FAIL TO TRACE 'BRAINS' OF DRAKE BLACKMAIL PLOT

Questioning by postal inspectors and private detectives of employees of the Drake hotel, involved in a $100,000 blackmail plot against John B. Drake and his son, John B. Drake Jr., failed to furnish a clue to the identity of the writer of letters threatening the two Drakes with death, it was announced yesterday.

Investigation is being made to determine the connection with the plot of a wealthy Italian commission merchant whose automobile was seen repeatedly in the vicinity of State street and Chicago avenue, about the time delivery of the money was to be made to a runner for the supposed blackmailers.

WIFE DIVORCED AFTER RECITING SHOOTING THREAT

Frank Emerson Teachout, vice president of the Burdick Tire & Rubber company, yesterday was charged with cruelty and habitual drunkenness in a bill for divorce filed in Circuit court by his wife, Mrs. Maudine Jean Teachout. The bill charged that Teachout threatened his wife's life with a revolver. Mrs. Teachout asks custody of their daughter, Katherine, 12 years old.

Judge Sabath yesterday annulled the marriage of Mrs. Genevieve Turner Rush, an actress, after she testified that her marriage to Roy Rush, a broker, occurred before her divorce from her first husband, Louis Turner.

Food Profiteers Also Face

MADRID, Sept. 26.—Gen. O'Donnell, duke of Tetuan, who has been appointed civil and military governor of the province of Madrid by the directorate, has cut the cost of living in the capital between 5 and 10 per cent in one week.

Some of the decrees:
1. Every grocer must post a complete price list. Otherwise he will be fined from $5,000 to 100,000 pesetas and possibly will be sent to jail.

2. Every retail and wholesale dealer in foodstuffs must inventory his stock under oath every morning for Gen. O'Donnell, with four citizens as witnesses, to prevent manipulation of prices.

3. No commodity can be raised in price without Gen. O'Donnell's consent.

4. The names of all merchants convicted of profiteering and giving short weights will be published in all newspapers.

5. Bakers are obliged to stamp the weight, his name, address, and the date the bread was baked upon every loaf.

6. Every dealer convicted of short weight is liable to damage claims by clients.

7. The price of meat will be lowered by the immediate opening of a new abattoir for butchers.

8. Telegraph offices will refuse to accept telegrams telling country producers to hold back shipments.

9. The railway companies must report shipments of foodstuffs returned to the country on account of an oversupply in the city.

Coal and Rent.
In addition the directorate will remove the tariff on coal imports unless the Spanish producers, mostly former deputies, reduce the price of coal, and a new decree in a few days will reduce rents tremendously. It is proposed to revert to pre-war rents, plus 10 or 20 per cent. Rents now are three or four times the pre-war rents.

In Madrid the prices of food are falling every day because of the threat of the government to abolish the middleman. The government is flooded with offers from country producers to sell sugar, vegetables, hams, and other products at low prices.

The new civil and military governors of the forty-eight other Spanish provinces are taking identical measures, with the same success.

CHANGE IN PREMIER'S TERMS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
MADRID, Sept. 26.—President Rivera of the directorate announced tonight that the prime minister must hereafter be elected for a term of years like the American president, instead of being at the mercy of the cortes. The premier must be entirely free to choose his cabinet and to keep his cabinet for his entire tenure of office. The constitution will be changed in the immediate future.

STRIKE DROOPS; N. Y. PRESSMEN SEEK OLD JOBS

New York, Sept. 26.—[Special.]—Owing to further improved conditions in the pressrooms of New York newspapers, it was decided today by the publishers that the newspaper should tomorrow omit the composite headings which have been displayed since the beginning of the illegal strike of members of New York Web Pressmen's union, No. 23.

Foremen among the strikers held a meeting today and discussed how they could return to their old places and arrange for the return of the other pressmen. It was decided to send a committee to see George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' union. Additional pressmen from other cities continued to report at the offices of the international union in response to the call from President Berry. Some New York pressmen also applied for international union cards.

THE furniture listed is representative of the bargains that feature the closing "clean-up days" of the semi-annual sale, for which over 300 odd pieces and discontinued patterns have been further cut for immediate clearance. Sale reductions continue throughout the week on the balance of the stock, offering important savings in every furniture want.

Of most pieces we have a quantity, of others only one of a kind.

PASTOR BRANDS TRY ACT FARCE; MUST CHANGE IT

Discards People Regard
It Only as Joke.

The Volstead act is a law. It is, however, considered one of the biggest farces in our country and must be changed. I do not say this on the spur of the moment. The remarks I am making now are cool, deliberate, matured considerations.

That was a statement yesterday by the Rev. Francis C. Young of St. Raphael's Roman Catholic church, who officiated at the funeral of George Young, one of the victims of the "near war" last week.

Young's condemnation of the prohibition law came as Mayor William E. Dever was signing eighty-two new revocations of saloon licenses. Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins was making recommendations for additional more revocations.

Reason for Bootleggers. "Many cranks may say that I am basing upon a question that must be settled by our statesmen alone," the Rev. Mr. Young continued. "The general disregard for the Volstead law is the cause of much of the present disrespect for all law. However, it is admitted that the people consider the Volstead law no more than a joke, and this has done great harm to our country. It has developed even among children a sneering derisive attitude toward most laws."

Remedy Is in Ballot. "We do not want that law we have a ballot which can do away with it. Being a free people and priding ourselves in our own made laws, we should respect those laws of our own making if we have any regard for ourselves."

After all is said, will and can this law under discussion be generally enforced? Will it be obeyed? The answer to my question is the basis of my argument. It seems a shame that so many lives, so much money and energy must be squandered trying to enforce such a law. Action should be taken immediately.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan, chief justice of the Circuit court, called attention to the fact that his mandamus was made to him that whiskey or rum was in any way involved in the case. He said that the assistant corporation counsel confessed he had no justification in opposing the entering of the order.

Orders Licenses Issued. Three other orders entered by Judge Sullivan compelled the mayor to issue saloon licenses which he would not do willingly, it was revealed. None of them, however, were saloons, but were what the court was told, because the mayor had revoked some license of some previous tenant of the building involved.

Thirty-five men were arrested in raids on four saloons late last night and ten men and a woman were taken to an alleged disorderly resort.

ARRIVED 60 YEARS, NEEDS DIVORCE. (Special.)—John W. Brown, 60, arrived in Chicago from New York last night. He is a divorcee from Mary E. Brown. He is alleged to have been married to her for 30 years and she is alleged to have been married to him for 30 years.

PASTORS LAUD DEVER'S DRIVE ON BEER RUNNERS

Urge Mayor Address Dry Conference.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
Mayor Dever was warmly praised for his stand on law enforcement at a luncheon yesterday of the Chicago Church Federation at the Hotel Sheraton.

Hope was expressed that the mayor would attend the citizenship conference at Washington, D. C., Oct. 19-21, and give his experience to the nation.

The luncheon-conference was called to arouse interest in the Washington meeting. The resolutions of commendation, which were unanimously passed, also included Chief of Police Collins.

Robins Praised Mayor. "I believe absolutely in the sincerity and courage of Mayor Dever," said Raymond Robins. "I knew him as an alderman and I know he was ready then to follow his convictions even at the risk of what seemed political danger. Mayor Dever trusts the people and believes in the end good citizens will stand by a program of law enforcement."

Prohibition, he said, "is the greatest moral and industrial reform ever accomplished and is the basis of America's moral leadership of the world. If we let it fail we cannot look our children in the face for the next ten years. Great Britain is suffering more from drink than from any other cause."

Conference Held Important. Fred H. Smith, New York, chairman of the executive committee of the conference and of the program committee, said the coming citizenship conference would be looked to by President Coolidge as indicating the sentiment of the churches and law-abiding citizens in general on the prohibition question, and would therefore have large national significance.

Among prominent men who have definitely promised to speak, he said, are Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Senator Borah. Lewis Marshall, said by many to be the greatest constitutional lawyer in America, will discuss the effect of law-breaking on the nation.

Mr. Smith held up Mr. McCutcheon's cartoon in yesterday's Tribune and said it presented a solemn situation in the life of the nation of force versus constitutional law.

CHARGE LARCENY AGAINST MISSING WIFE OF DOCTOR

A warrant charging Mrs. Ida Owens Ward McCormick, formerly treasurer of McCormick Medical college, 3730 South Michigan avenue, with the larceny of $4,000 of the college funds was obtained yesterday by William Black, secretary of the school. Mrs. McCormick, who is a doctor of ophthalmology, it is charged, deserted her husband, Dr. C. McCormick, founder and president of the college, on Jan. 18 and disappeared from the city.

Police were told Mrs. McCormick is believed to have gone to Los Angeles with a banker from Cloud county, Kansas. Two students who left the college at the same time also are being sought. Mrs. McCormick is described as a woman in her forties, who affects vivid colors and is a constant patron of beauty parlors. She is said to have used the aliases of Ida Owen, Ida Ward, and Florence Proctor. Bonds were fixed at $25,000.

Mr. Smith held up Mr. McCutcheon's cartoon in yesterday's Tribune and said it presented a solemn situation in the life of the nation of force versus constitutional law.

TRACE POISONING BY MOTHER TO WISH TO REWED

Elkhorn, Wis., Sept. 26.—[Special.]—With a statement on Tuesday by Ernest Kufahl, world war veteran and a former boarder at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Schaud, charged with attempting to poison her four children, to the effect that he had intended to marry Mrs. Schaud, and that he was building a home for her, officials here believed that a clue to Mrs. Schaud's motives in the confessed poisonings has been obtained.

The theory that the woman poisoned her children as a result of fear that they might stand in the way of her forthcoming marriage was being seriously entertained, although Kufahl declared he was fond of the Schaud children.

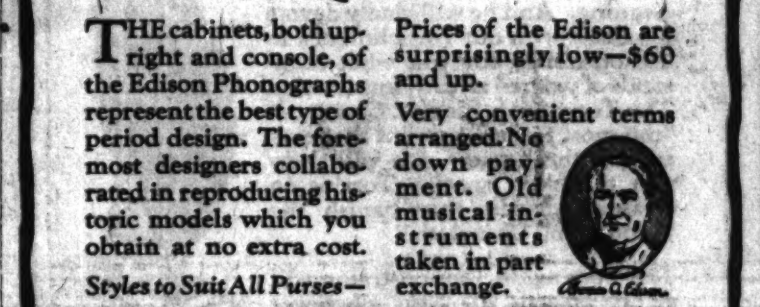

Kufahl said that he first met Mrs. Schaud when he went to board at the home in the fall of 1920, and that she apparently was overcome by grief when her husband died in March, 1922. Their conviction followed.

Meanwhile the Juvenile Protective association hopes to unearth all the political causes leading up to the pardon of Gusick and his wife while the cause was pending before the supreme court. Gusick and his wife were proprietors of the Roamer Inn at Posen, and Minnie Gehring, a girl from Monee, Ill., was found in the resort by her father in October, 1921. Their conviction followed.

WALTON MAY PUT CURB ON STATE SUPREME COURT

Plans to Balk Move of Routed Solons.

The rotunda of the main floor was headquarters for the staff. On each floor at the corridors and doors of all approaches to the legislative halls more militia were stationed.

The order forbidding the special session was passed on the floor of the assembly chamber, which were closed and locked.

No Place to Go. There was nothing for the legislators to do except wander around the corridors and chat with friends. They looked at the marble stairs and the memorial statues and the paintings and the portraits of L. Howell Lewis, the "Royal Astrologer," who predicted the election of "Jack" Walton as governor.

They laughed and joked with the editors and with the newspaper men, but there were many grim smiles and eyes behind the pleasantry. They secretly felt that Walton had become a dictator who was overriding the constitution.

"Can we ask the chaplain to pray, colonel?" asked one of the members to an officer in charge.

There were three or four hundred persons gathered in the lobby when the hour of noon approached. They were milling around as if they were in a political convention or a gubernatorial reception. W. D. McRae, the leader, was busy checking names to be sure that he had a quorum of fifty-four. Outside there was a small crowd gathered at the east entrance. They observed once in a while when they recognized the members marching up the hill in a lost cause.

Suddenly, from the center of the crowd, the voice of C. B. Brice, speaker pro tem, was lifted, declaring that the hour of the call had arrived and directing the clerk to call the roll of the members. He had hardly finished when Col. Key, stationed near him, lifted his arm and cried in a loud voice: "Don't crowd up! Stay where you are!"

Added to Dispersal Quickly. He then read Gen. Markham's order, directing the members to disperse.

"Please do us the courtesy to go away peacefully and quietly," he said at the conclusion. He gave his orders to the guards to start them moving and keep them moving until they were outside.

Frank M. Brower, member from Tulsa, stepped up to the colonel and said: "Do you disperse me as a private citizen or as a member of the legislature?"

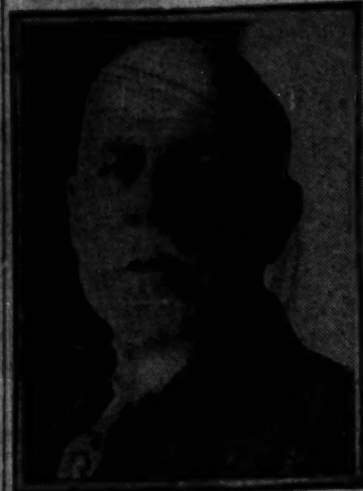

"I refuse to answer," said the colonel.

"That will mean five years for the officer that gave those orders," said Brower as he left the building without further protest. "This is a felony."

With their technical case made and points established for an appeal to the state supreme court, the legislators went downtown, and attempted to gather at their headquarters at the Hotel Mirvins. They had given their word to the military authority that they would not try to hold a formal session. They merely wanted to talk things over and decide on their next legal step.

But with the courteous militia off the scene the gunmen stepped in. The legislators found five or six of these quiet men sitting on their chairs and lounges when they returned. Others were in the lobby or on the sidewalk outside the hotel.

After looking the intruders over, Judge J. R. Tolbert, a member, said: "These who are not members of the legislature please leave the room. We want a little private conference."

The visitors made no move.

"What is your name?" Tolbert asked one of the men.

"John Gleason."

"What is your business here?"

"I was sent here to watch this room and to see that there was no disturbance."

In the meantime one of the members had gone to the militia and the officer in command sent a captain up to take charge of the situation.

The "gunmen" were ordered out by the militia and the guard captain was ordered to remain in the room with the legislators to make sure that no meeting was held that might be called a legislative session. There were only four or five legislators in the room at the time.

Campbell Russell, former state officer, was arrested for circulating a cartoon depicting Walton as a dictator drunk with power, threatening to de-clear war on Arkansas and Texas. He was in trouble ten days ago for the same offense and was warned by the military court not to send out the handbills.

One of the attacks of the legislature told the militia captain on duty at the "rebel" headquarters that Walton was "nothing but a dictator," but the captain apparently did not hear.

Outside of these little incidents and the arrest of newspaper photographers who attempted to get pictures of Capitol agents the day passed quietly.

"We have met the enemy and we are there," said W. D. McRae after the Capitol visit.

Gunmen May Have Overstepped. Gov. Walton said tonight that the gunmen who interfered with the legislature today were on the state pay roll and were working for him, but that they did not have direct orders from him to act as they did. He intimated that it might be oversteering on their part.

The governor is receiving hundreds of telegrams from individuals and organizations all through the United States congratulating him on his stand against the Klan and urging him to

There were no outstanding names or organizations in the list of contributors, as he read them tonight. The "rebel" legislators also have a batch of messages urging them to "stand firm," etc.

The peculiar part of it is that both sides think they are fighting for the constitution.

CANADA OPENS VAST STRUGGLE FOR FREEDOM

Premier Goes to London to Press Demands.

BY CHARLES BISHOP.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 26.—(Special.)

The imperial conference of representatives of Great Britain and the British dominions which assembled on Oct. 1 in London, and to which Prime Minister Mackenzie King now is going, will discuss questions far-reaching their importance to Canada: constitutional, economic, and political. There is much to support the idea that it will be a "showdown" between imperialist and autonomist schools of thought—between those who believe in a centralized direction of policy in London and those who favor the best exercise of the self-governing powers by the different dominions.

It is not the first conference of kind, several having preceded it. As the record is a criterion it is apparent that in any proposal the prevailing influence brings forth a new ally always upon the support of Australia and New Zealand. To all these and purposes they appear to stimulate British provinces.

Canada for Full Autonomy.

On the other hand, Canada for years has been striking out in the direction of the fullest autonomy, and the supremacy of her parliament in all matters of domestic concern, refusing to be led into imperial channels.

This position was first assumed, says Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in 1894.

During the war and after, Sir Robert Borden took a somewhat similar stand, as was this particularly by Premier Meighen when he came to the councils of the empire.

South Africa has generally backed the Canadian idea.

However, there are degrees to the notion of autonomous right. The Liberal party, at present in power, are more conservative, because the latter, according to the newer conception of things, embrace all the imperialist that are in the country. Mackenzie King, who goes to conference for the first time, was not far from a fundamental claim that Canada is wholly isolated with the present status of international relations and is seeking no change.

Want Canada to Dig Up.

This will not satisfy the British position, it is believed. Although it was in 1919, the German naval memorandum, and armaments supposed to be in the possession of the mother country, within such limits, is going ahead with a naval air defense program. The plain indication is that Canada will be expected to contribute.

Of the great new naval base at Esquimaux, this dominion is not asked to share by reason of the fact that it is conceded to be of peculiar value to Australia and New Zealand.

However, there are alternative proposals. One is that Canada establish bases on the Atlantic and Pacific.

An initial cost of about $15,000,000.

No More—Says

Wonderful Clean, Colorless Liquid Restores Original Color Results in a Week

Science again has scored a triumph in the discovery of a very remarkable liquid known as Kolor-Bak. If you are gray, just apply this liquid to the hair and scalp and your hair will soon take on the actual color it had in the past. Not a trace of grayness will remain.

Kolor-Bak comes in the form of a clean and colorless liquid; containing properties which quickly restore the lost color to the hair and give it renewed vigor. And note that the one preparation is for all colors of hair. No special solution required for each color—no samples of hair required.

You will find also that with Kolor-Bak the hair has the same shade throughout. It does not appear streaked, faded or "died."

Every scientist, every physician, knows that gray hair is hair that has ceased to receive its normal supply of coloring matter or pigment from certain tiny cells (called follicles or papillae) in the scalp, because these cells have become inactive from illness, shock of some kind, scalp disease, dandruff, infection, neglect of the hair, or lack of circulation, etc. But no matter what the cause of the grayness, it is simply amazing to see how it disappears when Kolor-Bak is used. It is a real substitute for the natural pigment.

PARDONING PANDERERS.

Doe Gov. Small sign pardons at the request of politicians with his eyes shut or did he know what he was doing when he pardoned the two panderers in the Illinois Oshkosh case?

The case was one of a country girl enmeshed in the white slave system of Chicago's underworld. The keeper of a roadhouse and his wife were tried for pandering and took an appeal to the Appellate court, which affirmed the sentence, and an appeal was then taken to the Supreme court, where it is now pending.

But meanwhile the governor has exercised his executive clemency on behalf of the convicted pair, a petition for pardon having been presented, with Lee O'Neill Brown, Democratic leader of the house, appearing on the record as attorney for the panderers.

A pleasant picture for decent citizens of Illinois to look upon. It illustrates the friendly alliance of politics and commercialism and it reminds us that there is no offense so detestable that it cannot hope for favor from some of our politicians. If an offender can pay in cash or service, directly or indirectly, and the transaction can be kept fairly quiet, he need not fear the lash of justice, though he has debauched a young girl or shot a rival in the back. It is not a question of the offense; it is a question of trade. That is why juries can be bribed; why bribed and briber alike feel quicksilver through the fingers of the law. That is why the grater scourges and murder is a popular sport.

If the governor signed the two panderers' pardon with his eyes shut, he had better open his eyes before he signs the next pardon. If he was deceived, he owes it to himself and the state to declare the deceit and do what he can to procure punishment for his deceivers. If he does not, we think the decent citizenship of Illinois and especially its womanhood will be heard from.

FOR OUR INHERITANCE.

Constitution week brought forth enough discussion in the press and at meetings to encourage its sponsors of the American Bar association. It should be repeated next year. With a good beginning and better preparation, it may be expected to show even better results. We hope it will do more than serve as an occasion for orators and writers. What is most needed is to bring about better instruction in constitutional history and theory in our public schools, especially the high schools. The subject should be given more emphasis. It should be raised above dry statement and given the color of living events, past and present. The ablest teachers should be assigned to it.

This cannot be urged too emphatically. The ignorance of American history and its lessons and of the basic principles of our law as expressions of human experience is as general as it is deplorable. It constitutes a very grave weakness in the national life today, permitting grave evils and promising worse. If we value our inheritance of freedom, we must know what it is and how we came by it. Instead we tend to take it for granted, and in time, therefore, we shall lose it. The Indianapolis News on this topic quotes aptly from Kipling, and the couplet might be adopted for the next formal celebration of our great document: "It was not made with the mountains; it is not one with the deep. Men, not gods, devised it. Men, not gods, must keep."

OUR RELATIONS WITH SOUTH AMERICA.

We welcome a denial of the inference drawn from a recent article that Secretary Hoover thinks too much attention is given to our trade relations with South America. Dr. Julius Klein, chief of the foreign trade bureau, expresses optimism as to prospects of expanding trade relations. At the last session of congress Mr. Hoover urged and obtained an increase in appropriation for this work from $150,000 to $200,000—not a liberal allowance, but one to be thankful for in existing circumstances. Dr. Klein says:

"The activities of this department to promote inter-American commerce have been upon the sound basis of precise expert knowledge of commercial conditions and trade methods, and not in the indefinite realm of vague generalities upon Pan-American feeling. No one appreciates this better than the average American exporter and manufacturer, as is shown by the fact that inquiries on Latin American trade problems addressed to this department in 1922-23 were 64.5 per cent in excess of those received on this subject in 1921-22 and several thousand per cent above those handled before 1921."

"Our monthly cable service on Latin American trade is now used regularly by nearly 800 traders and daily papers throughout the United States. It has been described as the most constructive contribution made thus far toward a better understanding of Latin America among our business men and the general public of the country. The department's extensive field investigations of Latin American raw materials, especially rubber, nitrate, steel, and tanning extracts, the appointment of additional trade experts and resident officers in that area, and the direct contact of the department with the inter-American high commission here in Washington in its efforts to introduce uniform legislation on commerce and economic matters are all facts which are too well known to be elaborated in detail."

He calls attention to the gratifying fact that our "total trade imports plus exports, jumped from a little less than half a billion dollars in the fiscal year ending June, 1922, to almost three-quarters of a billion in the fiscal year just ended, and July figures show the new fiscal year has started with the trend still upward."

We are glad to give attention to this important progress in economic relations with our sister republics of South America, believing present conditions in Europe to offer us an opportunity for establishing mutually profitable relations. Such progress, we believe, will fortify peace in this hemisphere, as well as contribute to our common stock of billy and property.

ENFORCE OLD LAWS RATHER THAN MAKE NEW.

Mayor Dwyer says prison sentences for speeders will solve Chicago's reckless driving problem. That would require a new law. At present we can send intoxicated drivers to jail, but not speeders.

Easier than the provision of a new law, we believe, would be the enforcement of the laws already existing. Every day every citizen abroad upon our streets, either walking or motoring, sees innumerable infractions of the traffic laws. Very frequently these occur within sight of policemen. Very infrequently they result in arrests.

If violators were promptly arrested without fear or favor, without abuse and without graft, when and wherever they were found to be violating traffic laws, and especially the speed limit, and were haled into court and heavily fined and rebuked, we believe the problem would be largely solved without any new laws. It is failure to properly enforce present laws rather than lack of sufficiently drastic penalties for traffic law violators which is the cause of most of our traffic troubles.

THE STOKES CASE CHARGES.

It is to be hoped Mr. Stokes will make a thorough investigation of the charges of Mrs. Stokes and her counsel that testimony has been suborned in her suit. The case is malodorous and sensational but its most serious aspect affects the credit of our whole process of legal justice. The charge of a conspiracy to defame by means of perjured testimony should be run down to its source and if established punishment should be inflicted not merely on obscure agents but upon the principals who employed them. The affair has become one of general consequence and if the charges of subornation and perjury are true an example should be made of all the offenders, an example of drastic punishment such as will deter other experiments of the kind. It is known to be difficult to prove perjury and subornation. The more reason why it should be accomplished if these crimes have been committed in this conspicuous case.

A TEST FOR THE ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS.

A controversy which has arisen between property owners of the Thirty-ninth ward and Building Commissioner Doherty concerning a permit for the erection of a two-story furniture factory at the southwest corner of Belmont and Ridgeway may prove a test for the working efficiency of the zoning board of appeals, and through it, of the zoning law, from which such great things have been expected for Chicago.

A permit for the factory building was issued by the commissioner. Ald. Tomczak and various residents of the neighborhood protested violently on the ground that the required number of citizens had not consented to the invasion of the district by a factory. The alderman has argued that the building cannot be erected under the new zoning law even with frontage consent. The permit has been withdrawn pending investigation.

If the permit is renewed and preparations made for construction there will be some hard feeling, and perhaps some damage to property owners near by. At least the property owners insist that the construction of a factory in their vicinity will damage them. It seems likely to offer an excellent test of the zoning law and of the zoning board of appeals. That board was authorized after a hard battle in the council early last summer. It was designed as a check between the zoning law and the courts, which would make the law workable and provide for the steady and proper growth of the city. If this controversy comes before it and is settled amicably it will establish an important precedent for the continued effective working of the law, and should greatly stabilize the future growth of Chicago.

Editorial of the Day

THE LIFE BLOOD OF AMERICA.

[Charles C. Clark, in The Independent.] Our first constitutional principle held the least government to be the best government. But constant influence toward nationalization has expanded our government functions until one worker out of twenty is a public servant, paid out of the taxes you and I and the other fellow give up.

Thanks to this extension, our bill for government is nearly one million dollars an hour, and we work about one day a week to pay it.

What is the life blood that keeps industry alive and growing and prosperous? What is the vital fluid which our civilization must have in free supply, or wither and die?

To understand the situation clearly we go back to the origins of our government, and what do we find? We find that the United States was not founded on a group of people, but on an individual—the American citizen. The constitution, which was drawn and adopted as the basic law of our country, was erected from the first word to the last on one single, simple principle.

That principle was nothing more than the acknowledgment of the right of every individual to liberty of person, liberty of property, and liberty of contract.

From this single, simple principle has grown the tremendous industrial civilization of our nation today. The foundation of all our greatness is the human individual, and his right to work, play, love, and worship as he will. All our marvelous economic progress, which is the wonder of the world, has been based on the individual, and not on government, as the state-spring of activity.

There is no American industry that has been invented and developed and built up by government. The origin, life, and growth, and success of every business in this country has been in the minds and hearts of individuals.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How is the line, let the quips fall where they may.

PICTURE OF DEEDS

How can I tell them how beautiful you were? I can say that your cheeks were roses—your mouth a rose!

I can say that your eyes were the burning—the amber—brown

Of pools in a sheltered cove.

And, yet, it is not enough; I can never find Any image or phrase that is fair enough.

Nights when the moon was asleep were your hair; And your hands were the buds of love.

Alas! there was more than your loveliness and your mirth—

More than your grace to torment us as shadows fall—

Something that hides in the hearts of the ones that you loved,

And can never be told at all!

I cannot tell you how beautiful you were: I can say only, Her presence was sweeter than Dawn;

I can say only, She was like Springtime: Spring—and the rose—... She is gone.

DOROTHY DOW.

QUESTIONS: (a) Was Mary Garden giving this Tribune's Manhattan interview? (b) Was he giving this Tribune's? (c) Who told her that anybody save herself suggested that she learn Zerk?

"WHEN I can't get an opera into my head," Mary is said to have said, "I let good art go."

Passing by at least two operas that Mary got into her head, "Cicero" and "Gismonda," it is fitting to recall that, as Zerk, Gismonda's partner was for a moment suggested the need of a head.

We've Ever Regarded It as Your Affair.

Sir: Through years that run back to the beginning of this issue, I've wondered what combination of circumstances has kept out the case of George Apple, 125 Lakeside Place, Chicago, telephone Spryville 6478. I don't see that Orange Lemon, recently reported, has anything on him (or her). D-26.

HERE is the office yesterday afternoon:

Our Mr. Chase (Real Estate)—If this man with the signal-lowers keeps up, how are we ever going to cross Michigan Avenue?

Our Mr. Hammond (Finance)—Think, and call a Yellow.

OBSERVING what Mr. Chase calls the sums at the principal meeting-points, we arrived at the fair conclusion that there's nothing much the matter with the system save (a) the traffic-cops and (b) the drivers.

The former seem unable to take in the patent truth that Mr. Hertz put in the system for the purpose of mitigating the outcome of their insurable impetuosity; and the drivers—well, they are just Chicago drivers: all right save that they lack knowledge of how to drive.

KINCE a request for suggestions had not been made to THE LINE, we respond with two—

That Mr. Hertz give a thought to the possible advantages of far-side stops for the 'buses.

That the Mayor issue an East-Nonstop order to selected drivers as they seek the Boulevard from the West.

AN added value in the latter suggestion is that, if adopted and enforced, displacement would play a due part in sustaining the correct water-level of the Lake, and, so, remove the principal grievance of other cities and of Canada as set forth yesterday in a first-rate editorial.

Yes—That or the Shifting Velocities.

Sir: Here, in the Postoffice in Omaha, the young lady who serves my food tells that she is one-third German and two-thirds Irish: do you think she may be the result of a triangle? Underdogism.

WHEN George M. Cohan informed us that not he, but Seymour Hicks, would play the Vagabond in the impending London performances of his delectable travesty, "The Tavern," we, meaning to flatter our cosmopolitanism, rejoined, easily, that Hicks had brains. "Yes," protested Mr. Cohan; "but he's a good actor!"

THE talk turned to the trick of kidding melodrama. "When I was rehearsing 'Little Johnnie Jones,'" he said, "the producers would drop in, look on, and then go out and laugh at me. Some of them were good enough to tell me what was wrong: 'You can't, they say, shoot a pistol and then get away with a song!' So, I did."

COHAN transacts this trick of kidding melodrama better than anybody else; better, even, than the witty Englishmen who wrote the burlesques for the London Gaiety which time burlesque was in its high and rightful place as a diversion of drama.

The new frolic in the Grand is alive with his deft, sagacious flair for travesty that is a compliment to those who listen and look, inasmuch as it implies their sophistication and their mental alertness.

YOU may be among those who recall how rarely Cohan managed this difficult type of fooling in one of Hicks' pieces—"The Man Who Owns Broadway," perhaps; anyway, it was something that had been written for Rex Goodwin to be noble in, and then was transferred to Thomas W. Row in a day when he had a dream that Goodwin might get old and wish to quit. . . . One episode, done in accompanied parlance, is the perfected product of the rime and rubato'd fun with which, in one review, Cohan made mock of "Common Clay" (which deserved it), and in another, of "A Tailor-Made Man," which, of itself, was fine folly.

AS to the dancing of which the critics wrote in raptures, there is more of it than in five nights of Pavlova, Karavina, Nijinsky, and Mordkin in the time when all were young, and there are more kinds than their Mucovsky has ever known. And it will take care of itself.

Why, Then, Bother to Tell of Him?

Sir: It may pain you to know that Doctor Jinks is on the faculty of the Chicago Dental College; but, undoubtedly, you will be relieved when I add that his specialty is extraction by general anesthesia.

SPENCER ARTHUR.

Mayor Dwyer may interest himself in the McCall matter, it is believed—inside information of the Daily News on the beer-business.

THAT would be a nice, friendly thing for the Mayor to do; but, haven't you, as a community, a tendency to ask too much of our officials?

The Mayor's insistence that the murders be cleared up seems to have left in the minds of the questioned policemen a feeling that failure will entail trouble. . . .

THEIR difficulty is the feeling that success, also, will entail trouble.

Still, You Can Ring It Better with Gai!

Sir: But slightly damaged, I gathered, as I glimpsed the sign in Webster Avenue—Gas-Stove for Sale: Sell Out of Gas.

"It was understood that there was an unwritten law under which the Government sanctioned the sale of whiskey, light wines, and other folk-potables that lie outside the obvious implications of the Eighteenth. The usage in the best enforcement circles is to put nothing in writing."

A SUBJECT FOR WOMEN.

BREADTH is responsible for so much disease and discomfort among working women, and also because it causes so much suffering and leads to the use of so much gin, morphine, and other drugs. Dr. R. M. Meeker gives the establishment of painful menstruation clinics. Every large industrial and commercial establishment employing many girls should have such clinics. He recommends a record card to be used uniformly by such clinics.

He further divides the subjects of painful menstruation into two groups, "A" and "B." Among school girls and working girls generally group "A" comprises about 10 per cent of the sufferers. They have no disease in the pelvic organs. Group "B" includes 90 per cent of the sufferers. It is composed of those with no definite pathology in the pelvic organs.

Group "B" he subdivides into subgroups "B-1," "B-2," and "B-3." "B-1," the largest group is subgroup "B-1-L," and in it are included between one-half and two-thirds of all the young women who are periodically disabled by painful menstruation.

Fortunately, this is the group in which the largest proportion of cures result from the use of simple procedures and even when an occasional case requires a drug the one advised is not a habit producer.

The simple procedures which can be expected to relieve or cure most of the cases are the following:

Constipation is a prominent factor. The measures for overcoming constipation are: Regularity of habit, large fluid intake (drinking lots of water), a diet composed largely of coarse vegetables and fruit, bran as a cereal, and bran bread; abdominal exercises; small doses of mineral oil when required.

Exercises—Patient lying on back, knees drawn up, arms raised, draw in and push out the lower abdomen to the fullest possible extent in both directions. Repeat twenty times at rate of five times to the minute.

Two other exercises are explained to the subjects at the clinic by nurses or physicians.

Baths—Hot sitting baths. Take several times a day. These baths can be taken in an ordinary bathtub.

Dr. Meeker holds, as to all physicians of experience, that the frame of mind is of importance in the treatment of painful menstruation. It is easier for a woman with this disorder to develop sympathy in an exaggerated form, to consider herself an invalid for the time, and to act on that basis. The discomfort is more easily borne if the woman makes up her mind not to give way to her discomfort. Some cases need a dose or two of some medicine occasionally. The medicine for relief which Dr. Meeker recommends is:

EAT LESS.

L. E. B. writes: Am 45 years old, 6 feet 1 inch tall and weigh at this writing 250 pounds.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—(Private to The People.)—Will you please publish the exact wording of the clause in the League of Nations Covenant which provides the punishment inflicted upon any nation violating the agreement in declaring war upon another member of the League until the point at issue has been passed upon by the League not within three months thereafter, and in the event of failure to act on the League's part, the members of the league agree that if there should arise between them a dispute which leads to rupture, they will submit the matter either to arbitration or to inquiry by the council, and they agree in no case to resort to war until three months after the award by the arbitrators or the report by the council.

The Veterinary Surgeons of Finance.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Washington, Sept. 26, 1923. Everybody is now giving a reason for his way for the great stringency, the great push, and the great bluster applied by Raboon, Grant, and Richardson.

For fear of having an opinion of our own, we may consider the means when the above three surgeons proceed to put the knife on the patient, Wall Street.

The Chicago Times says that the inflammatory announcement which it made on Thursday, that all the banks in this city had resolved to "close their doors," was an accident. If it was an accident, it was one entailing enormous consequences, but in point of fact it was not an accident. It was a reckless, heady attempt to create a sensation, the result of which have been so disastrous that the bankers themselves are frightened at their own work. The rest of the country banks on the city banks was precipitated by it, and this led to the ruin of the city depositors, who saw the money going away from them in car-pools and hastened to get their share.

PERSON IN AMERICANISM FOR KADISH.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Mr. Kadish, an Americanism is off on the wrong foot, any foreigners before him have been would ask Mr. Kadish if he can recall Lincoln's Gettysburg address? Do you recall what Nathan Hale said when he was to be shot as a spy? Does he recall what happened to Lord Cornwallis and his beleaguered army after Washington crossed the Delaware? These are a few things that Americans love to think and glorify because they are highlights in America's glorious history. The magnificent utterance of Hale was inspired by lust for money or the world's goods but by love of country. My antecedents have been American since the advent of the Pilgrims, and I can compare their lofty purpose of salvation to this country to the low, selfish lust for money and property that brings Europe's tattered hordes to God's country. I have the satisfaction of knowing that I am a better citizen to America than any foreigner because I love my mother country and would never leave its bosom another. ALFRED G. BAKER.

connection with the death, on July 28, of Fred Toekell, motorbus driver. Assistant State's Attorney Roy Fairbank said that the jury decided the accident was "unavoidable and unfortunate." The automobile, in which young West was driving, Miss Mary Meeker and Miss Helen Isham, young society women, collided with the motorbus in Sheridan road. Toekell was fatally crushed when wedged between his bus and a tree in the parkway.

John McCarthy, a contractor, 1244 West 44th street, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Julia Dwyer, 28, who was struck by McCarthy's automobile as she and a neighbor wheeled baby carriages across the street, was dismissed in the Englewood court. Sergt. Frank H. Wiedeling of the Evanston police was suspended for thirty days on charges that he attempted to "fix" a case for C. G. Harder Jr., 522 Aldine street. Harder, accompanied by Miss Helen Reeves, a Kephworth society girl, was arrested on a speeding charge.

Court to Fix Ownership of Wulff's "Strong Box"

Judge Oscar Hebel of the Superior court will be called upon to decide the ownership of a black steel "strong box" in which are twelve diamonds valued at several thousand dollars and more than $1,200 in currency.

The box of valuables was discovered among the dusty files of the county building by a clerk yesterday. It was the property of Henry Wulff, son of the late Henry Wulff, one time state treasurer. Young Wulff recently was convicted of stealing funds belonging to the county treasurer's office, where he was employed as a clerk.

BULLET, POISON, GAS "WAYS OUT" CHOSEN BY THREE

Mrs. Sarah Sanderson, brooding over unrequited love for a married man, swallowed poison tablets yesterday and is reported to be dying at the county hospital.

Capt. Frank Fitzsimmons, dependent over an unsuccessful marriage, who fired a bullet through his heart while walking through Lincoln park late Tuesday night, is in a critical condition at Columbia Memorial hospital.

And Verne S. Grantham, manager of the Institute of Physical Therapy, worried over his inability to break himself of the drink habit, turned on the gas and killed himself.

Fakes Poison in Federal Building.
Mrs. Sanderson, 29 years old, of 547 Michigan avenue, went up to the window of E. G. Pender, a clerk on the third floor of the postoffice. The woman, stylishly dressed, spoke a few words to Pender, who walked away from her. She put the poison to her lips and fell to the floor.

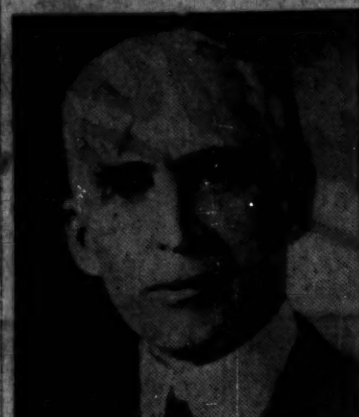

Pender told Capt. Patrick Kellher that Mrs. Sanderson had "hounded him" for more than five years, in spite of his rebuffs. His wife, he said, knew of the woman's efforts to pursue him.

Mrs. Sanderson, who, according to Pender, made another attempt on her life a year ago in Lincoln park, was unable to make a statement.

The attempted suicide of Capt. Fitzsimmons, young war hero, is said to be domestic trouble. His wife, an army nurse, whom he married while at the hospital at 47th street and Oregan boulevard, and who is suing him for divorce, was not located yesterday.

Mrs. Francis V. Fitzsimmons, 1537 Washington street, Wilmette, the man's mother, said he had drifted away from his parents since his marriage to the "50 year old nurse." Fitzsimmons is 29 years old and lived at 411 Denning place.

Charges in Divorce Bill.
In his wife's divorce bill she charged that her soldier husband "kept running home to his family all the time." On the day set for the first divorce hearing Fitzsimmons attempted to leap from a second story window in his parents' home. Previous to that, he had taken poison, after a quarrel with his wife.

Leaving a note which read, "Good-bye, friends, I'm tired," Verne S. Grantham turned on the gas in his office, 22 West Quincy street.

Mrs. Grantham, notified at her home, 608 Chicago avenue, said her husband, who was 45 years old, had been drinking heavily for the last month and "had been neglecting his business."

Plans for This Year.
"We will decrease the shortage by 5,000 this year," Mr. Mortenson said. "We can install seats for about 22,000 pupils during a year on our present building program. And this can all be done without going into debt or floating a bond issue."

The annual gain in enrollment in both high and elementary schools has been approximately 17,000. It was pointed out by Charles M. Mortenson, president of the board, that Chicago has never gone into debt for its schools but has paid for them out of the building fund raised from the tax levy.

Additions to Ten Schools.
Additions to ten more schools where the conditions are most crowded will be recommended by Supt. Mortenson in the near future.

"Twice as many school buildings are under construction in Chicago today than ever before," he declared.

SEAT SHORTAGE IN CITY SCHOOLS FIXED AT 25,000

The total enrollment in the elementary public schools is 349,495, it was announced yesterday. This is an increase of more than 7,000 over last year and causes a seat shortage of approximately 25,000. Nearly 20,000 pupils are receiving only a half day's schooling and 31,414 are attending on the extended day plan.

TWO PRISONERS SLAIN IN TEXAS JAIL BY OFFICERS

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 26.—C. A. Gains, sentenced to death for participation in the Jackson street postoffice robbery two years ago, and Pete Walk, sentenced to serve forty years in the penitentiary for complicity in a shooting near Garland, Tex., last winter, both were killed in a pitched battle with deputy sheriffs tonight on the sixth floor of the Dallas county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Willis Champion, night jailer, died later from wounds in his abdomen, legs, and body, received during the battle.

Both prisoners were taken to the hospital, but their condition was so bad that they were pronounced dead.

The battle was fought in a room on the sixth floor of the jail, where the prisoners were being held.

'STOKES PHOTOS' FAKED, REDLIGHT WOMAN SHOWS

Two Arrests Made in Plot Investigation.

John Rogers came to my house on this morning. He showed me a picture and said "Who is that?" "It's Helen," I answered. "Have you seen her down in these houses?" they asked. "No," was my answer. "Well, how do you know it's her?" they came back. "Why, hell, any one would know her," I told them. "Her picture has been in the papers every day, and that one you have there is out of the Tribune."

"They wanted me to say I'd seen her in the Everleigh club—I know every one there; but I wouldn't because I hadn't. They wanted me to say a lot of things, but none of the time they just drank my liquor and took up room, telling me that Brunner would say everything later."

Picture Taken from Album. "Then they took a picture out of my collection of photographs of girls in the Everleigh club and other places. They picked one with red hair—like Mrs. Stokes," they said, and about her size. They had a lot of copies made and spread them around the underworld."

"This girl was well known and lots of people remembered seeing her. Then these fellows would say, 'That's Helen Everleigh Stokes' and have an affidavit made by the person remembering seeing the girl in the picture."

"This girl was known as 'Brick Top'

Helen. She lived with a negro—Al Harris—though she was white. They had photos of Harris made and identified as Helen's man—and then said Helen was Mrs. Stokes.

"I took them to lots of girls who had been in the Everleigh club—to the day and night housekeepers and to all the old habitués, but not one could identify a real picture of Mrs. Stokes as one of any inmate of the club."

"Every time I asked for money they owed me they told me to wait till it came from the 'big boss' and then showed me a telegram signed D. Nugent, saying he was coming to direct things."

Nugent is one of Stokes' lawyers. "They showed me a picture of Mrs. Stokes with three girls and asked if the room wasn't in the Everleigh club. I said no."

Hunting for Photographers. Mrs. Stokes identified this picture as one taken of her at a girl's school. Pennants and class pictures line the walls.

Mr. Wharton announced that he was convinced that the pictures supposed to show Mrs. Stokes in compromising positions with men were faked. He found that individual pictures of Negroes had been gathered and now is tracing a photographer who is supposed to have put these with pictures of Mrs. Stokes and made a composite negative apparently showing the two together.

Richard Westbrook, discharged state's attorney, who has represented Stokes here, will be taken before the grand jury today with Millie Phillips, his client. Millie made an affidavit that she saw Mrs. Stokes drunk in a house of questionable nature in New York, but, when confronted with Mrs. Stokes a few days ago, could not identify her.

CERMAK PLEDGES BETTER DEAL AT JUVENILE HOME

When Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, yesterday asked the committee who reported "appalling conditions" at the juvenile detention home for the name of any employee responsible, and agreed to "fire" them immediately, the committee members, headed by Mrs. Ira Couch Wood, remained silent.

Mr. Cermak agreed that conditions at the home could be improved and promised his full support to remedy the situation. A superintendent whose qualifications for managing the home cannot be questioned will be appointed within ten days, Mr. Cermak said.

In New York SELL IT TO SWEENEY!

{Your prospects are limited by the number you IGNORE}

Selling Rickenbackers on Bleeker Street

ERNEST works in our mailing room. He is short, rather dark, foreign born; his family lives on Bleeker Street, and the family name is not Sweeney. Ernest is quiet, efficient, unprepossessing. He gets a good salary, but his job and his social status do not require him to dress well. A few weeks ago, word passed around our plant that Ernest had bought a Rickenbacker sedan. We asked the Circulation Manager how he did it.

"Well, in addition to his job here, Ernest has a newstand that brings in about three hundred a week. Then he has a contract as a sub-distributor of papers uptown—for about two hundred a week. Ernest can afford a car."

"Five hundred bucks a week! Why, the darn piker! Why didn't he get a Rolls-Royce?"

"Give him time," said the C. M., "he probably will—when he learns about 'em."

Ask your agency space buyer to try this on his dope sheets. Selling Rickenbackers on Bleeker Street! Except tion, you say? Perhaps, but in a population of six million people, exceptions repeat themselves into rules.

YOU never think of folks like Ernest as prospects for class advertising, do you? But they are. Year after year, advertisers crowd the beaten paths, all angling for the type of people who ought to buy their products in the media that such people ought to read—and neglecting the general mass market that wants everything and buys everything.

What is the answer? Tell it and sell it to Sweeney—the average man, the average woman, the average family. If you sell anything that almost everybody in New York can use—whether it is wheat flour, cough drops, railroad transportation, or investment advice, tell your story to as many people as possible at one time, in The News.

REACH every third buyer of morning newspapers in New York City through New York's picture newspaper. The paper has appeal—or it would not enjoy more than 675,000 sales each week-day morning in the fourth year of its life. It costs less on a line per thousand basis. The small size of the tabloid page and the limited amount of advertising that this tabloid paper can carry, give News advertising higher attention value to the largest morning circulation in America. And the concentrated circulation—96.90% in New York City and suburbs—insures your message going where you want it.

FIRST published by The Chicago Tribune on June 26, 1919, New York's Picture Newspaper now has the largest morning circulation in New York—in excess of 600,000 copies each week day. This is the most phenomenal growth in the history of newspapers—a growth that demonstrates the remarkable place The News has made for itself in the New York newspaper field.

We purchased this excellent English broadcloth in a very large quantity and at so distinct a price advantage that this remarkably low price is possible.

The shirts were then made up in our own workrooms, and the careful attention to detail that men find in all shirts here is fully evidenced in these.

The quality of the broadcloth is especially good. The colors—white, peach, tan, and some gray and heliotrope—are those men want. Purchase by the half-dozen is certain to be the decision of most men, for it is not likely that such values will be had soon again. Sizes 14 to 17. $2.95.

COOLIDGE ASKS WHEAT DATA AS MATTER OF FORM

Hearing on Tariff Boost
Entirely Unlikely.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Experts of the tariff commission have been instructed to assemble data for President Coolidge in case the latter desires advice on the suggestion to increase the duty on wheat as a means of aiding the farmer. The commission is, however, that no formal investigation, involving field investigation and public hearings, will be instituted by the commission and that no change in duties will be made.

Not Reached by "Flexible" Law.
The President will be advised by the commission. It is understood that it would not be possible to set the flexible tariff machinery in motion quickly enough to furnish emergency relief in the law for changing rates merely as a means of boosting prices.

Can't Reduce Freight Rates.
Changes in duties under the flexible tariff can be made only to equalize costs of production. There is no provision in the law for changing rates merely as a means of boosting prices.

Formal consideration of the recommendations for reductions in rates on grain and flour for export probably will be given by the interstate commerce commission at a conference the early part of next week.

The views of the western carriers on the subject of reducing rates for export commodities have been submitted to the commission heretofore in detailed form, they having held conferences some time ago after receiving requests for reductions in rates on export shipments.

CLEW IN DEATH OF SCHOOL GIRL FALLS TO PIECES

Caskey Not the Man,
Victim's Chum Says.

New York, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—The latest clue that might lead to a solution of the murder of Emma Hummel, 15 year old Millville, N. J., high school girl, fell to pieces this afternoon. James Clement Caskey, Philadelphia city employee and son-in-law of Elias Abrams, a Vark ward leader, was cleared of any knowledge of circumstances that led up to the slaying of the child.

Emma Hummel, a chum of the dead girl, had told the authorities she had seen Emma drive away Sept. 13, the day of her death, with a man in an automobile.

A fragmentary description of the man, which tallied in some respects with that of Mr. Caskey, and the fact that the Philadelphia frequently had taken the girl and his own children out for auto rides, caused the Millville police to go to Philadelphia to interview him. In the Millville party were the girl, Irma; her brother-in-law, John Brannen; his wife, and Richard Halsey, a Millville policeman.

The interview was brief. The girl looked at Mr. Caskey, who stood back from the door, his hat off, his face smiling, but showing marks of worry. "Is that the man you saw riding with Emma that night?" Detective Belshaw asked.

"No, sir; that's not the man at all," the girl snapped out.

STOCK EXCHANGE
OFFICIAL ACCUSES
N. Y. LEGISLATORS

Says They Use 'Blackjack'
Methods to Gain Favors.

New York, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Startling revelations concerning efforts by members of the state legislature to "blackjack" the New York stock exchange into the granting of valuable favors to them and their clients were made today before the grand jury by Seymour L. Cronwell, president of the exchange.

Mr. Cronwell appeared before the grand jury in response to a subpoena issued by District Attorney Joseph H. Banton, following a speech made by Mr. Cronwell before the convention of the American Bankers' association in Atlantic City.

Names N. Y. Legislators.

It is reported that in reply to questions by the grand jurors Mr. Cronwell mentioned the names of several members of the legislature who, up to this time, had not even been suspected of trying to make deals with the exchange. Mr. Cronwell was before the grand jury for an hour and a half.

Mr. Cronwell refused to reveal the nature of his testimony when he left the grand jury room. He said that Ferdinand Pecora, chief assistant district attorney, knew the names of the legislators to whom he had reference in his speech.

"And you will know them in a few days," said Mr. Cronwell emphatically, as he got into the elevator.

Bankers Rep. Radicalism.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—The general session of the American Bankers' association convention adopted resolutions attacking radicalism and expansive government regulation. Among other things the resolutions also opposed the reduction of railroad rates and valuations, advocated lower wages for labor, called for a more liberal immigration policy, designated the settlement of the coal strike as unfair to the public interest, urged the government to adopt the recommendations of the economic policy commission for the reform of the federal reserve system, suggested lower surtaxes on income, and recommended that the debt funding commission negotiate with Great Britain and France regarding a settlement of the reparations problem.

Walter W. Head, president of the Omaha National bank, Omaha, Neb., was chosen president; William E. Knox, president of the Bowers Savings bank, New York, first vice president, and Oscar Wells, president of the First National bank, Birmingham, Ala., second vice president. There was no contest.

NORTH COUNTIES OF STATE UNITE
TO MARK ROADS

Plan "Open" Book for Motor Rides.

Every road in northern Illinois is to be made an open book for motorists to read as the result of an official highway marking conference called yesterday by Maj. G. A. Quinlan, superintendent of Cook county highways.

Following the meeting, which brought the cooperation of highway officials in DuPage, Lake, Will, Kane, and other counties into the marking scheme, Maj. Quinlan said crews would be sent out over the Cook county maintained roads on Monday to begin painting numbers and direction signs on poles along the designated routes.

Neighboring counties will take up the work where the Cook county crews leave it at the line, and carry it on. There are about 300 miles of paved highways in the Cook county system and about 240 miles of secondary roads maintained in good condition. The state has arranged to mark much of the county's paved mileage according to its own system. These markers will be brought to center at the "zero point," Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard.

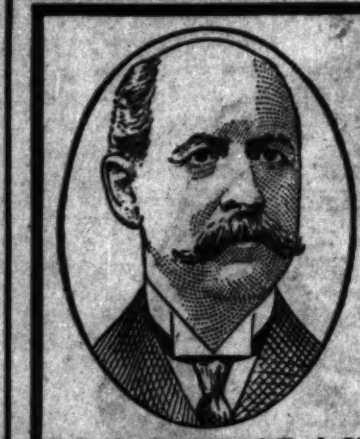

The county routes will be numbered and marked to their connection with the state routes. Thus, Irving Park boulevard, a county road, will be given a number and marked from its intersection with Milwaukee avenue and Sheridan road in Chicago—both of the latter carrying state numbers. Maps showing the numbering systems will be issued.

State routes eventually will be numbered up to 300. County roads will begin at 300. The county marker will have a white background on which a circle will be painted in black, with the name of the county on the rim. The route number will be painted in black inside of the circle. County Superintendents Gales of DuPage, Smith of Will, Hanson of Kane, and Russell of Lake approved the plan. Ald. Tomczak and Harry Fowler of the Chicago safety commission, Hugo Meyer of the Illinois Automobile club, Frank Jack and Charles Root of the Chicago Motor club, St. Mayer of the North Shore Motor club, and touring bureau representatives attended the conference.

Your Life in Your Hands!

Lifebuoy Protects and Gives Skin Beauty, Too

HOW can you for a single instant risk the loss of the only thing in life worth while—your good health?

Health is too often contemptuous of its foes. Yet these foes are dangerous—and ever present.

The simplest things you touch are the most frequent causes of sickness—books, public telephones, doorknobs, car straps and hundreds of others.

Why Hands Must Be Purified

Doctors no longer worry about many things which used to be thought responsible for the spread of disease—they now know beyond all question that sickness is communicated almost entirely by contact with those who are sick or have apparently recovered but who deposit germs on everything they touch.

You cannot always help touching these people or the articles they handle. You cannot even keep your hands away from your nose, mouth or food. But you can purify your hands frequently.

A true health soap is the greatest preventive medicine ever created—the most valuable guardian of health.

Health is more than wealth.
Health is life and happiness.

What is the unique quality of Lifebuoy Soap which has made it the most widely used toilet soap in the world?

Is it the rich, creamy lather of the oils of palm fruit and coconut, so soothing, invigorating and beautifying?

Is it the startling cleansing power which dislodges quantities of grime from hands that looked perfectly clean? Partly.

The Famous Health Element

But the big quality, which makes Lifebuoy unlike any other soap, is the wonderful Health Element. The gentle antiseptic which the lather carries deep down into every pore, combating the invisible enemies always lurking on dirty hands.

It is the Health Element which mothers prize—which makes them so insistent that children and husband must purify hands and face with Lifebuoy after work or play, before eating and going to bed.

It is because Lifebuoy protects that mothers place a cake at every place where there is running water.

La Grange Team Wins.
Officers of the La Grange Country club established a precedent by winning the third prize in the team championship contest for a trophy presented by the Chicago Golf club. The team of La Grange, consisting of W. L. Beckley, 84-89-125, and W. L. Beckley, 84-89-125, won the trophy.

Gene Sarazen, the 1922 champion, after being 3 down, on ten holes, finally won the match. The match was played on the thirty-first hole, the thirtieth of the course. This is one of the longest holes on the course, a par five dog leg, where Kirkwood made an eagle 3, yesterday.

There were two easy winners. "Long Jim" Barnes, the Pelham pro, won from Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., 5 and 6, and William MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., defeated Jack Strait of Hartford, Conn., 5 and 6.

Kirkwood's Miracle. On the first hole in the afternoon Kirkwood sank a ten foot putt for a birdie 4 and won the hole. On the second he sliced his tee shot over a hill fifty yards off the fairway, and had a blind spot for the green. After a study of the terrain he loosed his club. The ball dropped three feet from the pin and he sank it for a birdie 3 and won the hole.

On the fourth, a 154 yarder. Kirkwood's tee shot again dropped a yard from the pin and he sank it for a birdie 3 and squared the match. On the fifth he sank a 120 yarder for a birdie 3 and won the match.

George Nelson last night wrestled the Illinois 12.3 bulk line championship from Al Fleg, completing the three block match at the Loyola-Sheridan Recreation parlors victor by the margin of 750 to 723. Fleg coming within seven points of overtaking him at one time on the final stretch.

When play opened Nelson had a margin of 75 points, but Fleg's rallies, combined with his high run of 28, soon narrowed the gap, and the match was tight to the finish. Nelson had a high run of 19.

RE-ELECT PARRY AS PRESIDENT OF PEEL CUP BOARD. Local soccer managers reflected Jack Parry as president of the Peel Cup commission at the annual meeting at Great Northern hotel last night. W. H. Cummings was re-elected secretary, a position which he has held since 1915. John Matheson of the Thistle club was named vice president.

The following five men were elected commissioners: James Kreich, William Alexander, David Stevenson, Charles Pavlen, and Fred Callahan.

Only Miracles Save Winners in Pros' Annual Golf Meet

BAR RIBBED CLUBS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The United States Golf association announced today that after Jan. 1, 1934, all slotted or punched clubs would be barred. Stamped lines may be used if they do not exceed one-sixteenth of an inch in width and are not less than three-thirty-seconds of an inch apart. All rough or raised edges must be removed.

Clubs with slotted and punched faces which are used to put an abnormal "cut" on a ball were barred more than a year ago by the golfing authorities of Great Britain.

Outstanding in this list were Joe Kirkwood, the CHICAGO GOLF club, and the Pelham pro, won from Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., 5 and 6, and William MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., defeated Jack Strait of Hartford, Conn., 5 and 6.

RENAULT AFTER "REP" TO GET DEMPSEY BOUT

According to Leo P. Flynn, manager of Jack Renault, the Canadian heavyweight who meets Joe Downey of Columbus in one of the ten round bouts of Jim Mullen's boxing show at Aurora tomorrow night, Renault will be one of Jack Dempsey's opponents when the champion defends his title late next spring.

It developed yesterday that Flynn and Jack Renault had a conference in Chicago last Tuesday when Dempsey's manager passed through the city on his way west, in which Renault practically promised Flynn to agree to such a match, providing Renault gains enough reputation to induce Tex Rickard or some other reliable promoter to put the match on.

Packs Husky Right Mitt. Downey worked at the Arcade yesterday. The Buckeye state boxer made a favorable impression, and many believe Renault tomorrow will not have the easy time expected, despite the known hitting power of the Canuck, who packs a mean right wallop.

Not only did Renault and Downey finish the harder part of the preparation, but the match was true of Dave Shada and Joe O'Hara who clash in another ten rounder. Both engaged in boxing bouts with sparring partners and appear fit for the battle.

New Foe for Herman. Promoter Mullen announced an unavoidable substitution. Panama Joe Gans, who was scheduled to meet Tilla Kid Herman, will not be able to go on because of sickness. Alex Stramblis, another welterweight of Leo Flynn's stable, has been substituted. He has been training for pending bouts in the east and will arrive in Chicago this morning.

Other bouts will be staged as advertised, and tickets are on sale at the usual places.

Salter Freeman, local 140 pounder, matched to fight Fred Fiedler in the main event at East Chicago Monday night, yesterday was matched to box ten rounds with Pinkie Mitchell in Milwaukee on Oct. 11. The match was closed by Frank Mulken and the weight will be 140 pounds at 3 p. m. the day of the match.

Sammy Mandell, featherweight, will start training today at the Arcade for his ten round clash with Joe ("Kid") Warner of Philadelphia at Oct. 5. This bout will be the main event of Jim Mullen's show and he expects to have the arena completely covered by that time.

In the other bouts Charley Gleser will meet Pat Ryan, and Joe Warner of Philadelphia, and Billy Ryan of Cincinnati, 148 pounder, will trade punches for ten rounds. A suitable opponent is being sought for Tommy O'Brien, the Milwaukee lightweight. Come late, the Canadian 135 pounder, may be chosen.

And Taylor, the Terre Haute, Ind., bantamweight, has been matched to meet Charley Holmes in Washington, D. C., Oct. 18. They will box ten rounds at 118 pounds.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS. SPEEDERS' COURT. EAR WAKE: Just a few words to none others will try to follow your advice on what to do in Winthrop Harbor. Coming into the town, I slipped her into second, opened the cut-out and roared up the hill at 10 miles per hour.

"Where you think you're going?" asked your motorcycle cop, pulling alongside.

ULTIMATUM FOR SIKI FROM N. Y. BOARD

Unless Battling Siki agrees to go through with his bout against Kid Norfolk scheduled for Madison Square Garden on Oct. 13, he will be denied the privilege of engaging in the fight business in this state by the New York State Athletic commission. This decision, announced today, was reached after a lengthy conference between the boxing commissioners, Tex Rickard and Gene Bennett, who claim to be Siki's representative in this country. Rickard and Bennett appeared before the board and demanded that Siki ignore his scheduled match with George Godfrey at Philadelphia on Oct. 3 and live up to his previous contract with the Garden management.

Mickey Walker, welter champion, and Jim Jones of Youngstown, O., the New York champion, have been signed by officials of the Delaware state of Newark to meet in a feature bout of twelve rounds next Monday night.

College Department. Dear Harry: I am so sporting page that I have a candidate for quarter back of C. C. to equal to quality for the job by George.

DONOGHUE GETS RELEASE TO RIDE PAPHROS IN U. S.

New York, Sept. 26.—[Special.]—A cablegram was received today by the Westchester Racing association from London announcing that J. B. Joel had finally given a release from his engagement to Steve Donoghue, so that the most famous of English jockeys may come to this country to ride Papyrus in the $100,000 international race at Belmont park Oct. 3.

It now is certain that if Zev is selected as the American representative the two leading jockeys of the world will meet in a duel that will be second in interest only to the battle of their mounts, for Earl H. Sande, pilot of Zev, is generally rated as greatest of today's American jockeys.

Zev in Fine Shape. There seems no doubt that Zev will be fit for the race of his career if he is the selection of the committee of the Jockey club. Trainer Hildreth today sent the brown colt out for a workout over the mile and an eighth course on the Belmont park main track. Zev was accompanied in his gallop by his stable companion, Little Chief. They breezed the distance in 1:53 3/4, Zev trimming the older colt handily. The fractional times were as follows: 28 3/4, 54 3/4, 1:14 1/4, 1:29 1/4, 1:53 3/4.

A radiogram was also received today from Basil Jarvis, trainer of Papyrus, which is coming on the Aqueduct, stating that both he and Dr. Price-Jones were well pleased with the condition of the Derby winner on shipboard. The colt is cleaning up his food now in good shape. The message stated that the weather had improved and that there were hopes of a fine voyage for the remaining days.

Papyrus Lands Tomorrow. It is expected that the Aquitania will dock on Friday late in the afternoon. The Cunard company is building a special landing stage for the English colt's debarkation. It will be eighty feet in length and the drop will be only one foot in five. The floor will be covered with matting nailed down to prevent vent slipping, with cleats laid across the matting.

MALONE-CARBONE BOUT STOPPED BY ST. LOUIS BOARD. St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 26.—The boxing commission of St. Louis last night stopped the bout of Jack Malone, St. Paul, and Frank Carbone, New York, scheduled to be a ten round middleweight contest, in the Coliseum, after nine rounds. The bout was declared "no contest," and the city commission today voted to refuse to pay the purses of either.

Fortie Assure Wrestlers Will Stay on Canvas. Pat McElroy and John Freberg, who will meet in a wrestling bout at the Star and Garter theater tomorrow night, have posted forfeits.
